

SLVoices In The News

Monte Vista Journal – 2 November 2018

Wise Bounty is an online company founded by Monte Vista residents Adam and Martha Lock that offers household water filtration systems, nutritional supplements, electrical surge protectors and a solar cooking unit called the Sun Oven. Their second business, SLVoices.com, is an online forum spotlighting San Luis Valley events and promoting local businesses. The couple posts information, podcasts and interviews on their website and provides voice talent for commercials, voiceovers, film trailers and other audio recordings for businesses and individuals.

Monte Vista Journal – 5 December 2018

Thank you to Pastor Bob Galey for putting together the carolers for the tree lighting! Also thanks to Valley Publishing, KSLV/KDYN and SLVoices for helping promote the event!

We highly recommend that you take a few minutes to listen to the recent podcast on SLVoices featuring some of our partners at SLV Behavioral Health Group talking about how to cope with the unusual demands and stresses of this pandemic. You can access the podcast at <https://slvoices.com/2020/04/02/your-mental-health-during-the-covid-19-crisis/>.

Monte Vista Journal – 2 June 2020

Adam Lock, co-owner of SLVoices was officially welcomed as a Board Director. "He and Martha [Lock, co-owner of SLVoices and Monte Vista City Councilor] have been assets to this community," said Burnett. Lock thanked the board for accepting his membership and stated he looked forward to helping member businesses and the community, adding it was an extension of his dedication to positive progress here, "being committed to the community makes everything easier."

The board discussed the Chamber's efforts to help local businesses recover from the COVID-19 closures and sales slumps, discussing SLVoices's recent podcast and partnership with Jason Medina of the SLV Small Business Development Center along with a sponsorship program for individuals and businesses to sponsor Chamber membership for their struggling peers in the business community....
